

Freeze Your Auto Insurance Rates...

Accident Forgiveness Will Never Get Better Than This

Bradford — Local insurance agent Dan Williams is probably best known for his trademark style of marketing car insurance. And it's no wonder why since the average amount of money Dan has been able to save local families has been positively staggering.

Even more surprising is Dan's ability to keep the savings coming, month after month, year after year. Most insurance agents get complacent and eventually stop looking for the next big deal that will save customers' money.

But saving people money on insurance is what keeps Dan going. And while his customers certainly do appreciate it, there's more to the William's Agency than the initial savings.

Beyond the hundreds of testimonials from happy clients, Dan also receives dozens and dozens of letters from clients who are raving about how well they were cared for after a claim.
